SRF LTD

Testing an Old Support After a High-Growth Quarter

Srishti Mendiratta

SRF is trading near a support zone that has held since 2022, just after a quarter in which its sales grew 35%. Growth was strong, but higher costs reduced the operating margin.

Company Overview : SRF has three main businesses: chemicals, packaging films and foil, and technical textiles. In Q2, chemicals, which include refrigerant gases, contributed 42% of revenue. Films and foil contributed 43%, and technical textiles contributed 12%.

The Numbers : Consolidated revenue rose 35% YoY to ₹4,904 crore. Operational EBIT grew 26% to ₹816 crore, and profit after tax grew 31% to ₹509 crore. The EBIT margin declined to 17% from 18% a year ago, because raw material and freight costs increased. The chemicals margin fell to 25% from 29% for the same reason. Films and foil performed best, with revenue up 51% and its margin improving to 10% from 8%. Plant audits with a global aseptic packaging leader are complete, and management expects the aluminium foil business to exit this financial year profitable. Technical textiles revenue grew 25%, and its margin rose to 12% from 9%, helped by a record quarter in belting fabrics.The previous quarter included one-time inventory gains, which made its margins look stronger. Management has described Q2 as a clean quarter and a fair base.

Management expects chemicals revenue growth to be at the higher end of its 15-20% range. It expects specialty chemicals to do better in the second half, but it did not say how much of that improvement will reach margins. Customers have advanced registrations for two agrochemical products in markets such as Brazil, and two large Western pharma customers are engaged, including an oncology product expected to scale quickly.

In Q3 FY27, the PVDF plant is due to be capitalised and commercial sales of capacitor foil and a hybrid film line are due to begin. Capacitor-grade film is already selling ahead of schedule. Further ahead, a ₹600 crore battery foil plant will take about 23 months to complete its first phase. The next-generation refrigerant (HFO) plant is expected to start in Q4 FY28, with meaningful volumes arriving 10-12 months later.

The Chart & What to Watch : On the weekly chart, SRF is trading at ₹2,310 after falling 6.56% this week. The weekly low of ₹2,178.3 touched the ₹2,080-2,180 zone, which has acted as support since 2022. The price is below both the 20-week EMA (₹2,560.3) and the 50-week EMA (₹2,654.7), and both averages are sloping down. The ₹2,660 level, the top of the range, is near the the 50-week EMA. A weekly close below the support zone would open further downside. A move above ₹2,380 would be the first sign of recovery and could push prices back to the ₹2,660 level. For SRF, the question has shifted from growth to margins and the chart will show whether the market is satisfied with the answer.

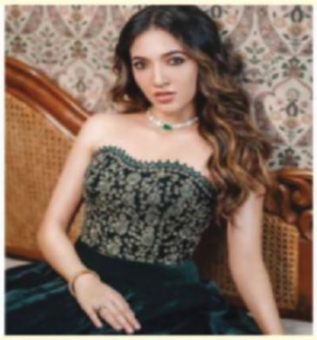
Sales executives and individual customer relationship managers assist customers. The Indian gold jewellery retail market is projected to reach Rs.9,551 billion by 2030, with a projected CAGR of 10.8%. India is the world's second-largest gold consumer after China. The gems and jewellery industry contributes approximately 7% of India's GDP and 15% of merchandise exports



The Indian gold jewellery retail market provides a significant growth opportunity. According to CareEdge Research, the market expanded from Rs.3,740 billion in calendar year 2020 to Rs.5,732 billion in 2025, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 8.9%. It is projected to reach Rs.9,551 billion by 2030, with a projected CAGR of 10.8%. India is the world's second-largest gold consumer after China. The gems and jewellery industry contributes approximately 7% of India's GDP and 15% of merchandise exports. Although India is the world's largest diamond-cutting and polishing hub, the domestic retail gold jewellery market remains fragmented: organised retailers accounted for 36.7% of the market in 2025, while unorganised retailers accounted for 63.3%. Rising disposable incomes, formalisation and growing preference for branded, hallmarked jewellery are expected to support organised retailers. The company plans to expand its existing showroom at C.G. Road, Navrangpura, Ahmedabad, and open a sixth showroom in Ulhasnagar, Thane, Maharashtra. Together, these projects are expected to add approximately 3,300 sq. ft. to the existing retail area. The Ahmedabad expansion has a stated lease period until March 2028, while the Ulhasnagar showroom has a 36-month lease arrangement extending to April 2029. The company intends to use IPO proceeds to fund inventory for these projects and repay borrowings.

Of the net proceeds, Rs.152.836 crore is earmarked for inventory supporting the new Maharashtra showroom and Ahmedabad expansion, while Rs.30 crore is allocated for repayment or prepayment of borrowings. The amount allocated to general corporate purposes will be determined when the offer price is finalised and is capped at 25% of the gross proceeds from the fresh issue. Following the offer, assuming full subscription and no pre-IPO placement, the promoter and promoter group holding is expected to decline from 99.99% to 69.80%, with public shareholding reaching 30.20%. The implied post-offer market capitalisation at the upper price band is approximately Rs.911.9 crore.

Nifty at a Critical Juncture - Bulls vs Bears What to Expect Next Week?

Global & Indian Market Outlook: A Crucial Week Ahead

Global financial markets are entering a decisive week as investors assess Federal Reserve policy, major technology earnings, rising crude oil prices, bond yields and geopolitical uncertainty. Wall Street's direction will depend on whether corporate earnings can offset inflationary pressures and elevated borrowing costs. Meanwhile, Bitcoin and other cryptocurrencies remain sensitive to global liquidity, institutional fund flows and risk appetite.

For Indian markets, the outlook remains cautious as foreign investor activity, crude oil prices, rupee movement and quarterly earnings continue to influence sentiment.

Nifty and Bank Nifty must reclaim important resistance zones to establish a sustainable recovery; otherwise, selling pressure could persist.

The key to this week will be confirmation, not prediction. Strong earnings, easing inflation concerns and improving global sentiment could trigger a recovery across equities and crypto. Conversely, higher oil prices, rising yields and disappointing results could deepen volatility.

Investors and traders should remain selective, respect support and resistance levels, avoid excessive leverage and maintain disciplined risk management. In uncertain markets, protecting capital is just as important as identifying opportunities.

Nifty 50: Recovery or Further Downside?

Nifty is at a crucial technical juncture after recent selling pressure. The coming week will determine whether buyers can defend lower support zones or whether bearish momentum continues. A sustained move above 22900 could trigger short covering and improve sentiment, while a breakdown below 22300 may expose the index to further downside towards 22000. Cautious to bearish below resistance. Fresh buying should be considered only after a confirmed breakout with strong momentum.

Bank Nifty: Banking Stocks in Focus

Bank Nifty remains sensitive to heavyweight banking stocks, institutional flows and quarterly earnings. The 53800 zone is an important support to monitor, while 54800 is the immediate resistance. A decisive break below support could increase selling pressure towards 53000. Sustained trading above 54800 may improve recovery prospects, with 56300 acting as a stronger resistance zone.

Grey Market Movement

'Only Jio' dominates Grey Market: Premiums of other IPOs under pressure

Jio's premium skyrockets: Possibility of 20/25% gain on listing

Potential returns: BLS Polymers 25%, Bombay Coated 10%, SFC 6%

Zero premium in EAAA India and MK Sons IPOs due to lack of trading

Premiums vanish across all four SME IPOs following operator inactivity

Currently, 11 counters are active in the grey market, including seven Mainboard and four SME segment issues. Crucially, due to massive trading activity focused on the Jio Platforms IPO over the last two weeks, operators in most other IPOs remained largely inactive, resulting in an 'Only Jio' dominance across the grey market. Even now, due to heavy trades in premium, 'subject to', and shareholder quota for Jio Platforms, premium rates and activity in most Mainboard IPOs have come under pressure. In the SME segment, the situation has deteriorated to the extent that despite four active IPOs, there are no premium or 'subject to' trades reported in any of them.

Mainboard IPOs:

Jio Platforms: Due to strong investor interest over the past week, after trading initially commenced at a premium of Rs.200, the premium dropped at one point to Rs.150/155 before rocketing up on heavy trading volume last week to around Rs.255/256. Considering current market conditions, investors could see a listing gain of 20% to 25%.

BLS Polymers: In the mainboard IPO segment, after Jio Platforms, this IPO has drawn notable market fancy. There is a potential for around 25% returns in this IPO as well.

Bombay Coated: Trading activity in the grey market for this IPO is gradually picking up. There is a possibility of around 10% listing gains.

SFC Environmental: Trading has recently started in this IPO, but supply outweighs demand. A listing gain of around 4% is expected. Apart from this, two mainboard IPOs-M.K. Sons Fine Jewels and EAAA India-have seen no significant expectations or trading activity.

SME IPOs: In this segment, due to operator inactivity in four IPOs-Carver Roboweld, Wiscon Ind., Core4 Engineers, and Ajwa Project-the premium rates have virtually disappeared.
